CTY offers challenging academic programs for highly talented elementary, middle, and high school students from across the country and around the world. We are currently seeking highly motivated and qualified candidates to work in our summer programs. Information regarding employment and our summer programs can be found at cty.jhu.edu/jobs/summer.

Why teach for CTY?

- opportunity to teach motivated and talented students a subject they love
- limited class size (maximum of 18 students) ensures a low student-teacher ratio
- all classes are taught by both an instructor and teaching assistant
- opportunity to work in an environment with colleagues who share similar interests
- competitive salary plus room and board at our east and west coast residential sites
- science instructors are allotted a generous lab budget

We are currently seeking individuals to teach the following Engineering-related courses:

- Inventions
- The Physics of Engineering
- Principles of Engineering Design
- Electrical Engineering
- Investigations in Engineering

Core Dates for 2017 (Please note that the dates for some sites vary from those listed below. Visit our Site Locations and Dates page for specific employment dates at each site.)

Session 1: June 22 - July 15, 2017
Session 2: July 15 - August 5, 2017

For more information about these positions, site locations, program dates, and access to our online employment application, please see our website, cty.jhu.edu/jobs/summer, or contact us via email at ctysummer@jhu.edu or by calling 410-735-6185.
Johns Hopkins University is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, gender, religion, age, sexual orientation, national or ethnic origin, disability, marital status, veteran status, or any other occupationally irrelevant criteria. The university promotes affirmative action for minorities, women, disabled persons, and veterans.