

KYLE PAK

Hello, I'm Kyle Pak. I am currently a second year electrical engineering major at UCLA. I was born and raised in Fullerton in Orange County.

I chose ECE at UCLA because I was interested in cybersecurity in high school. I wanted to explore hardware security. At UCLA, I am exploring various fields of electrical engineering and computer science from signal processing to AI/ML. This summer, I joined Professor Fragouli's Algorithmic Research in Networked Information (ARNI) lab. I worked on an Army research project on vehicle localization using audio sensors. As of now, I'm interested in pursuing a MS or PhD.

My hobbies include watching movies, taking photos, skateboarding, and collecting vinyl records. I'm always down to try new things!
