

Hi, my name is Rachel Schwall and I am currently studying electrical engineering at UCLA. I grew up in San Diego and decided to move slightly north to LA when pursuing higher education. In high school I was a part of the marching band and the track team. I developed a passion for math and science throughout middle school and high school which guided my interest towards engineering. I joined the fast track program to challenge myself and prepare for the future. I hope to gain experience through hands on work in engineering clubs and learn all I can in order to excel and get the most out of my time at UCLA.
